Description

Who do you side with--Calvin or Arminius? Are we saved by God's sovereign grace or by our own choosing? For centuries, this question has divided many Christians into two camps: the Calvinists and Arminians. This pamphlet, including excerpts from F.W. Grant and C.H. Mackintosh, shows that though each system has elements of truth, the mind and ways of God cannot be contained in such narrow doctrinal confines. Rather, it is only when God's Word is allowed to speak for itself that we begin to see God's sovereign grace and man's responsibility, not as contradictory ideas which preclude the existence of the other, but rather as complementary aspects of His full and free salvation.
